

Gabbert Architects Planners understands faith communities and appreciates how each church building, though unique in its own ministry, must function as the venue for worship, fellowship and the sharing of spiritual gifts, while reflecting the timeless principles of inspired living and grace.

Our knowledge is honed by experience, having worked on over 300 church projects from vision development through facility design. Our experience lends insight into the complexity of issues faced by churches and allows us to achieve a product both pleasing and functional for each individual faith community as they look to ministry growth.

Throughout history, places of worship have been considered among the most significant buildings in our community.
